To The Bluejay

We meet you in our Freshman year.
You're dressed in white and blue.
We hear you are a mascot
For a school that's good and true.
And as the year goes slowly by
We learn to love you too!

When as Sophomores we return,
You greet us at the door.
You tell us we're forgotten;
"Don't say that," we implore.
And we set out and change your mind
And love you even more!

Next we find we're Juniors
With a banquet to prepare.
The date was set as May 16,
And everyone was there.
"A very charming banquet!"
Was what you did declare.

And we return as Seniors.
Our high school days are through
When finally we graduate,
And leave our hearts to you.
For we love you little bluejay
In your coat of white and blue
